

A research study at
RUTGERS CANCER INSTITUTE of NEW JERSEY

To understand why breast cancer in
African American women...

- occurs at a younger age
- spreads faster
- and is harder to treat

We need African American women with a recent diagnosis of breast cancer.

Who can participate?

- African American women
- Living in Bergen, Burlington, Hudson, Essex, Passaic, Union, Mercer, Middlesex, Monmouth or Camden counties
- With a recent breast cancer diagnosis (less than 1 year)

(other criteria apply)

What does the study involve?

- An interview (approximately 1.5 hours).
- Give a saliva sample.
- Opportunity to participate in a follow-up study with additional incentives.

You should also know:

- All information is kept confidential.
- We can come to your home or find a mutually convenient place to meet.
- We will not ask you to take any medications.

Participants receive a $50 gift card plus opportunities for additional gift cards.
